"The Jilt," a thrilling three-part story by Mary Hastings Bradley, begins in December. The Kewpie Kutouts, by Rose O'Neill, are the greatest and most original color feature ever published in any magazine. In the twenty famous departments of the Companion are 12,000 ideas, contributed by experts, to help women and girls to dress, cook, entertain and above all, to live well. The Companion is the woman's helper. To one seeking friendly companionship and helpful, practical advice, it has no equal at $1.50 a year.

The American Magazine this year will contain three of the most popular features ever printed in one magazine. The American is the magazine of fire and friendliness. Its stories strike a fresh note in fiction. Its special articles are remarkable for profound insight, fairness, brilliancy. ### A Few Opinions of the Press Upon This Great Work.

The most comprehensive of all books is the one entitled "Science and Key of Life," is intensely interesting from cover to cover, requiring but very little application to fully understand the subject.—The Psychic Era.

Henry Clay Hodges, of Detroit, Mich., has been for years making a scientific study of electric and magnetic influences caused by planetary movements and the great laws of attraction and gravitation as operating through interstellar space. The effects of different polarizations of the sun and moon produce great effects on human life. The art of navigation is closely connected, Mr. Hodges believes, with these influences and currents in aerial space. In a new work called "Science and Key of Life," Mr. Hodges discusses these great laws from both the astronomical and the magnetic side. Electric and magnetic phenomena are shown to be related to sidereal changes. This work is one of remarkable scope and power, on both the scientific and the psychic phases of life and progress.—Lillian Whiting.

This work makes the whole subject clear, puts it in harmony with modern science, illustrates it by profound philosophy and historical examples, and is in accord with all the latest developments of thought and research.—The Occult Truth Seeker.

It is a question if anything on this subject has been written which is as scientific and rational, and on so high a plane as the "Science and Key of Life."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

According to Henry Clay Hodges, of Detroit, the influence of the stars is superior to all but the free will of mankind, and an astral chart will enable its owner to unfold the power within himself and combat all hostile influences. To his mind it is every one's duty to have his horoscope cast, for the reason that one's character is absolutely governed by astral influences, and crises throughout his career occur when the stars that governed his birth come in certain hostile or favorable juxtaposition. "Science and Key of Life" is the title of Mr. Hodges' book. It represents the study of a long life and is illustrated with numerous horoscopes of famous men, which demonstrate to the satisfaction of the author that the dominant influences of the heavens had more to do with brilliant successes or disgraceful failures than the efforts of the men themselves.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Time for Brotherhood.

When a fellow's feeling blue,
And is troubled through and through
With a melancholy feeling
That he cannot seem to shake,
When his plans have gone astray
And his hopes have slipped away
And he's standing at the crossroads
Wondering which one to take,
That's the time to grab his hand
And to make him understand
That he's grieving over trifles
And his worries aren't worth while,
That's the time to slap his back
With a good old friendly whack,
That's the time he needs your friendship
And the time he wants your smile.

When he's deep down in the dumps
And has known life's rocky bumps,
When he's got the kill-joy notion
That his work no longer counts;
That's the time a word of cheer
Sweetly whispered in his ear
Sets the heart of him to beating
'Till his spirit proudly mounts,
That's the time a glad "Hello!"
Means far more than you may know
That's the time a sign of friendship
Really does a brother good;
That's the tie a word of praise
Lifts a fellow up for days,
Sends him on his way, rejoicing
That's the time for brotherhood.

Courage.

MAUD L. JOHNSON

'Tis easy to sit in the boat and glide,
While your brother pulls the oar;
'Tis easy to lie by the mountain side
And watch the eagle soar.
'Tis easy to laugh while the sun shines bright
And to dance while the bagpipe plays,
But can you smile when you hear the
dirge?
Or laugh on the darkest days?

The gay little birds sing sweet at morn
As they swing midst the dewy leaves,
But the owl steals forth in the gloom
of night
And screams and moans through the trees.
Shall we like the owl moan in the night?
Or sing like the birds at morn?
Shall we be fearful? Or calm and brave,
In sunshine and in storm?

Let us learn to be sturdy and strong
like the oak,
Through tempest and gale and snow
And though we be crushed and broken
and bent,
Still always stronger grow;
And like the pine on yonder hills,
Though the storm be wild and fierce,
Let us upward strive with courage rare
And strive the clouds to pierce.

This work is one of remarkable scope and power, on both the scientific and the psychic phases of life and progress.—Lillian Whiting.

This work makes the whole subject clear, puts it in harmony with modern science, illustrates it by profound philosophy and historical examples, and is in accord with all the latest developments of thought and research.—The Occult Truth Seeker.

It is a question if anything on this subject has been written which is as scientific and rational, and on so high a plane as the "Science and Key of Life."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

According to Henry Clay Hodges, of Detroit, the influence of the stars is superior to all but the free will of mankind, and an astral chart will enable its owner to unfold the power within himself and combat all hostile influences. To his mind it is every one's duty to have his horoscope cast, for the reason that one's character is absolutely governed by astral influences, and crises throughout his career occur when the stars that governed his birth come in certain hostile or favorable juxtaposition. "Science and Key of Life" is the title of Mr. Hodges' book. It represents the study of a long life and is illustrated with numerous horoscopes of famous men, which demonstrate to the satisfaction of the author that the dominant influences of the heavens had more to do with brilliant successes or disgraceful failures than the efforts of the men themselves.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Ten Golden Rules.

Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today.

Never trouble another for what you can do yourself.

Never spend money before you have earned it.

Never buy what you don't want merely because it is cheap.

Pride costs more than hunger, thirst, or cold.

We seldom repent having eaten too little.

Nothing is troublesome that we do willingly.

Never anticipate trouble. Half the evils we fear never happen.

Take things always by the smooth handle.

When angry count ten before you speak—if very angry, count a hundred.

According to Henry Clay Hodges, of Detroit, the influence of the stars is superior to all but the free will of mankind, and an astral chart will enable its owner to unfold the power within himself and combat all hostile influences. It is every one's duty to have his horoscope cast, for the reason that one's character is absolutely governed by astral influences. "Science and Key of Life" is the title of Mr. Hodges' book. It represents the study of a long life. The dominant influences of the heavens had more to do with brilliant successes or disgraceful failures than the efforts of men themselves.—Chicago Record-Herald.
